

"My Friend Stephen" hangs out in the shade of a Black Walnut tree, south of Main

"Thundercloud" is resting quietly in a Maple tree south of Main St.

"Free to Be Me" has landed in a flowering Crab Apple tree on Hamilton's north of Main St

"Taking it Under Advisement" is hanging out on an Oak tree south of Main.

Look for these sculptures as you walk around Hamilton

bliss@montanablissartworks.com
www.montanablissartworks.com
www.facebook.com/BarbaraLissArt

Visit the concrete sculpting studio
701 Main Hamilton MT 59840

Enjoy the trees in our community

Explore Concrete Sculptures

"A new Man in Town" south of Main St enjoying the view from an Elm tree

"Thunderhead" has found a large Box Elder tree in Hamilton to hang out in, north of Main.

"Storm Watcher" has found a Larch tree to keep an eye on the weather, south of Main.

"Always Look Up" has left the studio and has found his way to a very large spruce tree, south of Main

"Today is the Day" one of the girls came out to play in this hide and seek of concrete sculptures. She is waiting in a Rocky Mountain Juniper tree north of Main

"Staying Warm" is a little overdressed for the weather, so he's staying cool under the shade of a Spruce tree, south of Main.

"Gar Today" is hanging out north of Main for all those enjoying walkabouts keep an eye out for him.

"Chain knit" is hanging out in a Spruce tree north of Main St.

"How Did That Turn Out" is hanging out on the south of Main keeping an eye on the neighborhood.

"Proud Son" served in our armed forces. He is hanging out by his mothers garden south of Main St.

"Someone You May Know" has found a Hackberry Tree south of Main St

"Guardian" finds a lovely old Maple tree south of main to hang out.